Overview of Events

Friday Evening Keynote

We are excited to have Joel Salatin, of Polyface Farm in Swoope, Virginia as our keynote speaker. In a virtual slide tour, Joel will take us through his operation; from woods to cows, to chickens, to pigs. It will bring light to many of the principles he will discuss in his presentations.

Saturday

Many farmers believe their land, labor, and income are all maxed out. Joel Salatin will return to inspire you to maximize your farm's potential. Coupling imagination with his own farm experience, Joel will walk you through what is possible. He suggests that every property is capable of doing more. With stacking enterprises and better management, you can increase salaries and profitability.

Join Robbie and Rachel Miller, of Fresno, Ohio in the Homestead Tent where they will share their passion of building our children's enthusiasm for homesteading.

Hear Glenn Wenger and Glenn Weaver as they share on the importance of reevaluating emotional issues in the Human Health and Nutrition Tent.

Interested in the art of weaving? Make your way to the Demo Tent.

From mission to message, marketing is all about serving the needs of customers. During the second session, Joel Salatin will explain the why and how of marketing branded food and fiber products.

Does sourdough baking seem complicated? In the Homemakers Tent, sourdough specialist, Sarah King of Sunny Acre Kitchen will take you through the process step by step.

In the Human Health Tent, Steve Stoltzfus will share his testimony of finding true healing after 17 years of psychiatric medicine and psychology.

Shortie Hochstetler, of LaGrange, Indiana, has been studying grazing techniques for over twenty years under some of the best geneticists and grazers, both here and abroad. His beef cattle feed stock business uses 100% grazing/hay production, implementing various styles of grazing management throughout the year.
